RIDGE

August 9, 2010

The Bristol-Myers Squibb Children's Hospital (BMSCH) at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital remains the focal point of New Brunswick's growing children's academic health campus. As New Jersey's largest free-standing, state-designated, acute care children's hospital, this state-of-the-art facility consistently ranks among the top-rated children's hospitals in America for patient satisfaction.

The Child Health Institute of New Jersey at the UMDNJ-Robert Wood Johnson Medical School was founded to ensure that all children can enjoy healthy pain-free lives. Its mission is to improve child health and the quality of life by discovering the causes of childhood diseases through research that will lead to the prevention, treatment and cure of devastating illnesses.
